U. S. OPENS DRIVE ON HIGH PRICES

No Relief Before Thursday Forecast

COST BOOSTING
"TRUSTS" TO BE INVESTIGATED

Housing, Clothing And Food
All To Be Targets For Justice Department

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The justice department opened an anti-trust drive today against conspiracies to "maintain or increase present prices in the food, clothing and housing fields."

At the same time, the CIO urged immediate institution of a voluntary program for price reduction bolstered by re-establishment of price and ration control.

Attorney General Tom Clark instructed his anti-trust division to probe any existing price-boosting conspiracies and declared that offenders will be prosecuted vigorously. Clark said:

"CONSPIRACIES will be prosecuted criminally and the justice department will oppose acceptance by the courts of pleas of nolo contendere. Upon conviction of the defendants the department will recommend jail sentences for the individual defendants and maximum fines against the corporations."

The attorney general pointed out that in the past, anti-trust convictions have not customarily brought jail terms.

But he emphasized that imprisonment is authorized under criminal provisions of the anti-trust laws.

Clark asserted that the "soaring high prices now continuing in the food, clothing and housing fields" demand a new and more vigorous approach" by the justice department.

His order follows a three-month study by justice department attorneys of methods through which persons or firms contributing to the high cost of living may be prosecuted.

Emil Rieve, chairman of the CIO full employment committee, demanded a "roll back" of prices to the level of June 30, 1946, when OPA went out of existence.

Rieve told a news conference that "we are in inflation up to our necks now and if something is not done, we may have an economic collapse that will make the early 30's look like a picnic."

The CIO proposed:

1. That President Truman, through his council of economic advisers, call an immediate conference of industrial, labor and agricultural leaders to develop a voluntary program for price reductions.

2. This failing, congress should expose unjustifiable price rises and enact legislation permitting the restoration of price and ration controls.

SENATOR ASKS PRIEST TO STEEL INQUIRY

Kaiser Demand Backed And GOP Hit For Failure To Control Prices

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Sen. O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., today threw his weight behind Henry J. Kaiser's demand that Congress turn the spotlight on the steel industry.

The Wyoming Democrat blamed Republican politics—which he termed "their presidential canvass"—for the failure to control prices, particularly of steel, and to stimulate an increase in the nation's steel production capacity.

Kaiser's demand for an all-out probe of the steel industry coincided with reports that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has turned down, at least for the present, Kaiser's proposal that the agency pare down his $12 million dollar loan on his Fontana, Calif., steel plant.

DAMAGE TO CORN CLOUDS HOPE OF BIG MEAT CROP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Possibility of a short corn crop this year darkened government hopes today for high level meat production in 1948 and pointed toward continued high prices for both corn and meat.

The agriculture department's monthly crop report estimated that corn production this year will fall 628 million bushels below last year's output, based on conditions as of Aug. 1.

Grain experts said that significantly the Aug. 1 estimates were made prior to the drought which is hitting the midwest corn belt area. They feared that this factor may trim the corn yield even below the latest prediction.

Government experts estimated this year's crop at two billion, 659 million bushels.

United States Lashes Russ for Veto Use In Defense of Aggression

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The United States lashed Russia in the security council today for using the veto "in defense of aggression" and hinted that the general assembly will be asked to invoke article 51 for action in Greece by individual U. N. members.

The United States declaration, one of the toughest and bluntest policy statements recently heard by the 11-nation body, was the culmination of months of futile endeavor to overcome Soviet Russia's blocking of the Balkan border solution and her shielding of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

OHIO STEAMING ON TENTH DAY OF HEAT WAVE

Citizens Scan Skies In Hope Of Rain Declared To Be Only A Possibility

By International News Service

Ohio was seething and steaming today in its own "witches' brew" concocted from heat and humidity.

"I can't see any relief until Thursday at the earliest," Weatherman C. G. Andrus said, explaining as he forecast temperatures of 100 degrees or more in some Ohio places this afternoon.

With the current heat wave in its 10th day, Ohioans were looking skyward for the clouds that might bring rain and a change to cooler conditions.

"There is enough moisture in the air for rain," Andrus said. "But we need a little influx of cooler air aloft to furnish the trigger action to drop the precipitation earthward."

THE WEATHERMAN said that only a few widely-scattered showers were likely by tomorrow and that for the time being no general relief can be expected from what has now become a drought in Ohio.

Investigation showed that no Americans were involved. The decision to refer the case to the German authorities came after 31 sparkling pieces of jewelry had been recovered by U. S. officials.

The mercury hit 94 degrees at Cleveland yesterday for the highest reading of the summer so far. A high of 96 was forecast for this afternoon. Top reading over the state yesterday was 95 degrees at Chesapeake and Toledo.

Spokesmen for the Army's criminal investigation division dismissed the theory that Princess Hermine, widow of the Kaiser and late owner of the gems, had been poisoned at a tea party.

The charge was an aftermath of events which took place the night of Aug. 6, the sheriff said, when he and Deputy Carl Radcliff were summoned by Mrs. Ed Fetherolf in the vicinity of the Saltcreek township school.

Mrs. Fetherolf was quoted by the sheriff as stating that she telephoned him after Mrs. Florence Iles, accompanied by her five small children, had fled in terror from the Iles home to the Fetherolf home after encountering the partly disrobed priest.

Sheriff Radcliff and his deputy said investigation showed that the priest's car hit a fence and went into a ditch and that when Mrs. Iles planned to go to the car to see if the driver needed help one of her small sons said, "Don't go there—that man is drunk."

Twenty-five other pieces were recovered from Princess Carmo Hartung, Ferdinand's sister. (Continued on Page Two)

GEORGE JOINS IN FIGHT, LANDS IN CITY KENNELS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12—George will have a lot of time and solitude today to ponder over his misbehavings.

George is a young monkey owned by Charles Jones, of Cleveland. Last night, according to police, George bit Thomas Kiefer, 20, on the face, hands and neck in a tavern "Brawl."

Police could not explain how the fight began, but George was taken away and locked up in the city dog kennels.

MANAGING to get the car out of the ditch the Rev. Fr. Theodore then parked it a short distance away on a byroad near the Roy Fraunfelter home off State Route 56. The sheriff quoted Mrs. Iles as saying she called to the priest and informed him that (Continued on Page Two)

INCREASED ATOM BOMB DISCOVERY CREDITED TO U. S.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The London Daily Express declared today that American scientists have made a discovery which will enable production of atom-bombs to be increased nearly seven-fold.

The Express said scientists found that if a small lump of atomic explosive is surrounded by blocks of uranium or thorium metal, which now is plentiful it doubles in weight within a few weeks.

This, the paper added, will increase the bomb output from the present rate of six a month to ten a week.

The atomic energy commission plans to store sufficient explosive cores for 1,000 bombs by 1950, the paper added.

SELF DEFENSE, SAYS DANCER OF "ASSASSINATION"

HAVANA, Aug. 12—Patricia Schmidt's defense counsel sought today to refute "Assassination" charges against her by declaring John L. Mee menaced her with a matador's sword moments before she shot and killed him on his yacht in Havana harbor.

In a brief presented in court to refute the charge against her, defense counsel Rene Castellanos admitted that the exotic nightclub dancer fired the fatal shot at the Chicago lawyer-playboy April 13. He contends, however, that the shooting constituted homicide rather than assassination. Patricia is from Toledo, O.

When the trial opens, Castellanos will endeavor to prove that Mee suffered psychosis as a result of war shock. He also will try to demonstrate that numerous circumstances modify the criminal responsibility of his client, and will submit several circumstances which he considers extenuating enough to merit her acquittal.

The dispatch said that approximately 2,000 such leftists already have been rounded up in night raids.

The measure was regarded as preventive, to avoid riots Aug. 15 when the anniversary of the Pacific war's end is celebrated.

GI Defends Plan To Marry Daughter Of Jap "Peace" Envoy

TOKYO, Aug. 12—Saburo Kurusu's beautiful 21-year-old daughter, Teru, was making final plans today to wed a young American who hopes the United States will let him take her home as an ordinary housewife.

His Japanese-American bride-to-be was born in Rome and educated in Switzerland and Belgium. She spoke Italian and French fluently even before she learned the Japanese language.

General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters, where White is employed, has given approval to the marriage. White is working with the reparations sections cataloguing machinery which, he said, "is the kind of work I've always been connected with."

White met his bride-to-be fifteen months ago when serving near Karuizawa, Japanese mountain resort where Kurusu and his American wife and their two foreign-born daughters lived through the Pacific war.

U. Alexis Johnson, American consul at Yokohama where the marriage will be solemnized, said he will witness the wedding and added pointedly:

"I do not witness weddings if there is any question of legality."

ATTLEE DICTATOR BILL PASSED BY HOUSE 178 TO 63

THE AFL president uttered this prophecy in a speech bristling with thrusts against the Taft-Hartley labor disputes act.

He set forth the federation's program of economic and political measures to defeat what he called "the slave labor law" and retire its congressional supporters to private life.

The provisional forecast of a third party was made earlier at the convention's opening session by Daniel J. Tobin, long-time president of the 900,000-member Teamsters' brotherhood.

Tobin, labor's principal spokesman in the Democratic party throughout the Franklin D. Roosevelt administrations, recalled that "ever since the days of Samuel Gompers I have been against a third party." But he added "times are changing and I may change my mind."

He said there "is no hope for a third party until the labor movement is cemented into one" organization with a membership ranging up to 14,000,000 and a potential voting strength of 37,000,000.

Green's address before the 4,000 teamster delegates was regarded as the most definite pronouncement yet made on the AFL's plans to combat the newly-enacted Taft-Hartley law.

tional controls on speculative commodities.

RIEVE SAID that congress should reconvene in a special session because of the acuteness of the present economic crisis, but he added that "I don't have any hope of a special session."

The CIO official, who also heads the textile workers union, blamed industry and congress for current high prices. He said no ceilings are necessary on wages because profits are 70 per cent greater than the wartime peak and are sufficient to absorb all recent pay increases.

Rieves warned that if prices continue to rise, labor will have no alternative but to seek further wage boosts "although we don't like the prospect of having to carry a basket of money to the store to buy a loaf of bread."

Rieves said price controls especially should be reimposed on speculative commodities such as corn, wheat and similar items. He said the foreign aid program has put new pressures on the American economy and a system of controls is necessary to prevent "strangulation of our economy."

Predicting that steel "will be a lively subject" when congress reconvenes, O'Mahoney said:

The Wyoming senator added: "Henry Kaiser's application for an adjustment, in my opinion, makes it certain that the whole subject of steel capacity will be a lively issue before congress next session."

FLIVVER PILOTS STILL GROUNDED IN LABRADOR

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, Aug. 12—Two "Flivver" round-the-world pilots were still grounded by adverse weather conditions at Goose bay, Labrador, today.

Radio dispatches from Goose bay reported that the two tiny Piper Cub planes had not been able to get off on their projected 1600-mile hop to Iceland.

Former Army Flyers George W. Truman, 39, of Los Angeles, and Clifford V. Evans, 26, of Washington, D.C., still hoped to resume the trip later today if the weather cleared.

The two men left Teterboro, N. J., Saturday on a global journey which may take four to six weeks.

LOCAL BANKS TO IGNORE NEW OHIO CLOSING RULE

Although some banks in Ohio have announced adoption of a five-day week, under provisions of a new state law permitting Saturday closing, Circleville banks said Tuesday they will not adopt the new schedule and that the banks in Circleville will continue without changing their banking hours in any way.

Bankers in Circleville, it was explained, discussed the new law's provisions at a recent meeting and decided against the Saturday closing. Eight Cincinnati banks announced Tuesday that effective Sept. 20 their institutions will operate on the five-day week plan. The Cincinnati banks also announced that four holidays previously observed will no longer close the banks since they are not recognized generally by business and industry.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday morning with burial in a Jackson Heights cemetery.

JEWS ORGANIZE SQUADS AGAINST ARAB ATTACKS

JERUSALEM, Aug. 12—The powerful Haganah organization organized "Anti-Arab squads" today to safeguard Palestine's Jewish community against further attacks from Arab extremists who, in two days, killed or wounded 15 persons.

The unusual action followed a new incident in Tel Aviv, in which a young Arab was slain and a Jewish couple seriously stabbed.

Haganah is the Jewish agency's underground militia.

Described as "Black squads," its units are composed of dark-skinned Yemenite Jews who look and speak like Arabs.

They are under orders to hunt down those Arabs responsible for Saturday night's gun-and-grenade attack on a cafe outside Tel Aviv, which resulted in the death of five persons and wounds to eight others.

TORSO SLAYER ADMITS BRUTAL 'DETROIT CRIME'

Bride Of 12-Days Failed To Respond To "Lady Making" Treatment

DETROIT, Aug. 12—A 50-year-old part-time Detroit butcher broke at the end of 12 hours of questioning today and admitted he was "guilty" in the torso slaying of his 20-year-old bride.

Wayne county prosecutor James McNally quoted Harold Treaki as stating:

"I am guilty."

The middle-aged bridegroom of 12 days, however, balked at signing a written confession that he beat and dismembered his young wife.

THE VICTIM'S torso, limbs and head were found over the week-end stuffed in garbage receptacles along alleys in the Third avenue district.

Police Inspector Marvin Lane and Chief of Detectives John O. Whitman said they had enough evidence for a formal murder warrant against Treaki without a signed confession from him.

Detectives said the chief pieces of evidence were blood stains found in the husband's apartment, a patched mattress and the testimony of the neighbors that they heard Mrs. Treaki scream for help Saturday afternoon.

INVESTIGATORS asserted pieces missing from Treaki's mattress matched the material in which the victim's head and legs were wrapped.

The break in the case, which involved questioning of five male suspects, came about 4 a.m. Treaki told police that he gave his wife $45 about 3 p.m. Saturday "for house money" but she went out and "got drunk".

Treaki, an auto worker, married the victim 12 days ago in Toledo, O., "to make a lady of her."

Police said Treaki was angered by her associations with other men. He was given a lie detector test prior to making his statement to police and "failed to pass."

POLICE FOUND a bloody butcher knife, an ice pick, a length of pipe and a pair of shears near Mrs. Treaki's home. A post-mortem revealed the victim died of a fractured skull, from blows of a heavy instrument.

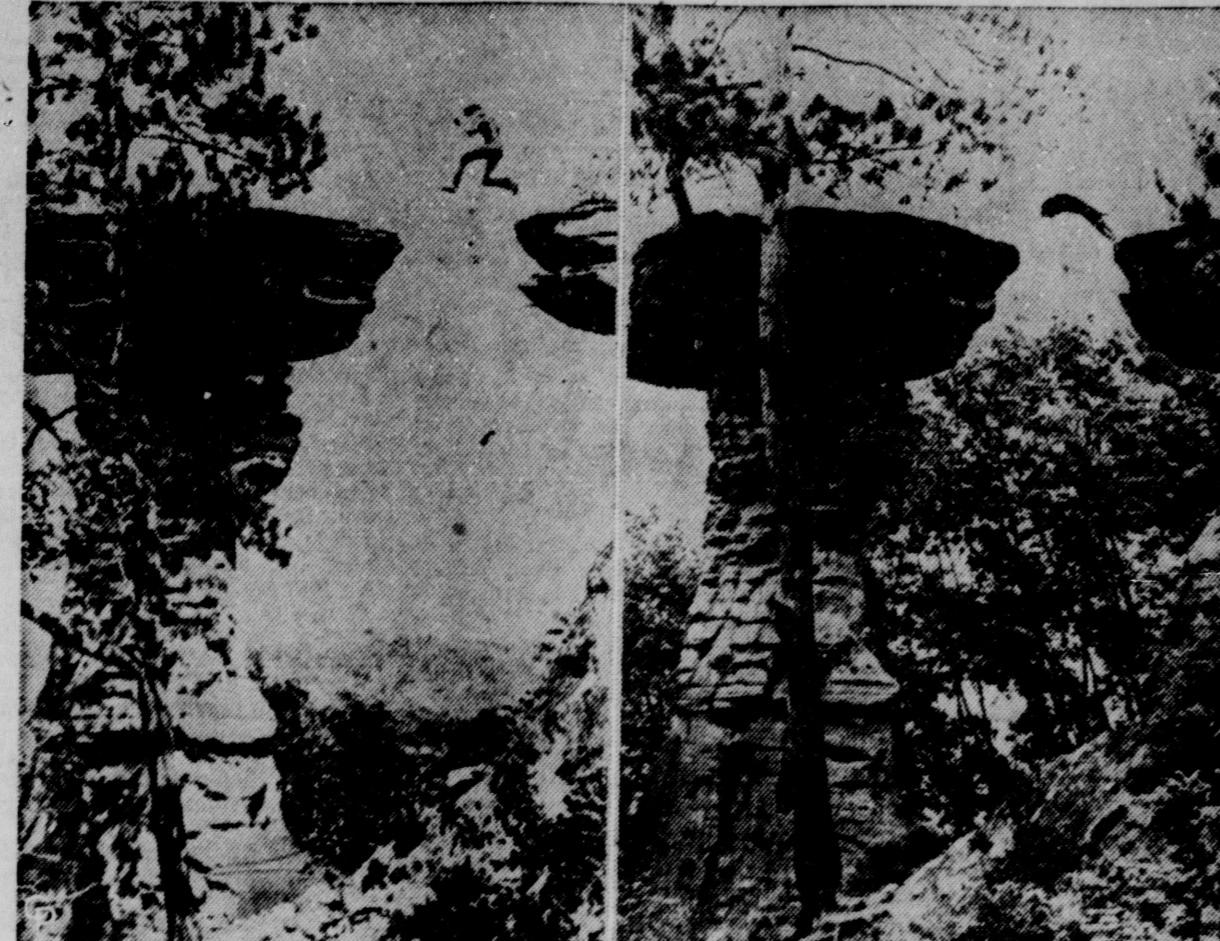

The body contained more than a dozen wounds, apparently inflicted by an ice pick. There were two deep gashes on the forehead.

CONVICT CAMP SYSTEM ON WAY OUT IN GEORGIA

ATLANTA, GA., Aug. 12—Georgia's highway convict camp system was on the way out today as federal and state officials launched a new investigation into the fatal shooting of eight Negro convicts at the Brunswick road camp.

A grand jury recently failed to indict the camp guards who claimed they shot the prisoners as they were trying to escape.

The Georgia board of correction voted yesterday to close the two remaining camps immediately after hearing details of the riot from Glynn county commissioner Sam Levine. The Brunswick camp is in Glynn county.

Levine told the board the Negroes rioted when they were ordered into a ditch occupied by poisonous snakes.

Levine testified:

"A Negro is afraid of a snake and so am I."

He also branded the guards as "trigger-happy" and "illiterate." Levine said he was speaking as a private citizen.

The Brunswick American Legion post, the Good Citizen's club, the Young Men's Civic Club and the Democratic organization all were reported to have requested removal of the prison camp.

TRIBUTE TO UNCLE SAM

PRESIDENT MANUEL ROXAS of the Philippine Republic, in giving an interview to Lee Hills, says that America is the hope of the world.

The Philippine leader believes that the United States does not realize the weight of its influence on the suppressed peoples of the world. "Liberty and world peace are indivisible, and prosperity for all nations is closely related to freedom," he says. Democracy, according to the island president, is really working in the Philippines, and the result is being watched by the Asiatics. "America," he says, "is the only nation in the world which by its own record has convinced the people of Asia of its highmindedness, its disinterest and its great desire to enlarge the freedom of all peoples and give them equal opportunity to work out their own problems."

This is a heartening statement. It would be easy to believe, at the moment, that the rest of the world thinks of the United States only in terms of material gains. It is encouraging to learn that some intangible benefits are realized and appreciated.

INSECTS, NOT BIRDS

"TO FLY like a bird" is a poor comparison. So says William B. Stout, the automotive engineer, in a recent speech. He thinks that birds are not very good flyers; not one bird every landed upside down on a ceiling.

The real flyers are the insects. Their wings are far smaller in proportion to their size than those of birds, they can make higher speeds in proportion and can maneuver more readily.

For years inventors trying to build flying machines have had the idea of studying the flight of birds. If they had devoted the same attention to the movements of insects, Wilbur and Orville Wright might have had predecessors as the world's first successful aviators.

The Franco government in Spain has issued a new list of social reforms carried out under its auspices. Most observers report that the achievements look remarkably well—on paper. Actually little has been done. The greatest social reform that Franco could accomplish would be his resignation.

It begins to look as if maybe the greatest threat to modern civilization is the automobile.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—Congress failed to enact the Stratton bill admitting 400,000 displaced persons from Europe. This is stirring considerable bitterness among people who can make themselves bitter about such matters, believing the United States should be a refuge for anyone who needs a political haven. These people had spread their own impression that a critical emergency on the issue required immediate action.

There are perhaps 1,000,000 Europeans who do not wish to return to their homes for political or social reasons (they fear to go under the wing of Communism). About 21 percent are children; 13 percent are over 44 years old; 20 percent are Jews; 65 percent are Catholic; 15 percent Protestants; a majority was in agriculture before the war, but the group also includes various skilled workers; 60 percent are in the United States zone and will cost us $130,000,000 to support this year. (These figures are all from legislative authorities who have investigated the subject and placed their apparently correct figures in the congressional record at one time or another near the end of congress.)

Congress realized the problem could not be solved simply by opening American immigration gates to let the mass flow in, although some evidence indicated many had relatives here who might support them. If this were true, however, Republican Representative Keefe of Wisconsin, pointed out in a speech which was not noticed that admirals had testified shipping was unavailable to bring any small portion to these shores. The public simply has been ill-informed and misled about the whole problem by agitating people who have not stopped to ask themselves three questions, namely: what would be best for the 800,000 displaced? What would be best for us? How can what is best for both be done?

So the senate, in the closing moments of its session, authorized a senate judiciary sub-committee to conduct an investigation of the whole question of immigration. This inquiry now will seek the answer to the questions. It may also determine facts about the charges frequently made that Mr. Roosevelt admitted huge numbers of aliens on temporary permits during the war without any real authority in law; charges that aliens flow freely right now across borders; charges that large numbers of Europeans have come into this country as travelers since the war ended and simply remained. (The Lady Mountbatten, involved in the New York check story, was in this last class.)

The attitude of congress seems to me to be simply this: There is great sympathy for the DPS. Congress does not want to send them back to their homes in the new Russian slave empire. There is unwillingness to relax the immigration laws, especially while there is a lack of housing and a shortage of goods. There is a further fear that in event of a recession, the admission of DPS might complicate the employment problem. Government officials have estimated that from one to five million people (many Negroes) will be displaced from southern farms in the next few years by mechanization.

The DPS are mostly farm workers. Our own southern farm DPS are supposed to seek new employment in northern cities,

However, Louie went the way of all flesh. Next thing you knew, he was operating his own little joint. It was not exactly a roaring success and I lost track of Louie eventually. Undoubtedly he is still around town, telling Katharine Cornell to get a little more oomph in the third act.

I recall pert little Martha Stewart, the movie actress, telling me how it was impossible for her night club comic husband, Joe E. Lewis, to get through a meal when he was appearing at the Copacabana here—because all the waiters were horseplayers, and would forever be running over to Joe's table to give him hot tips.

Horseplaying, of course, is the waiter's occupational disease. They forever are lining up five-horse parlays that, if they click, will enable them to buy out the restaurant in which they work.

Tar Hollow Scene of 4-H Club Camping

Crown King, Queen During Activities, Classes Held

Sixty girls and thirty one boys from Pickaway county attended the Senior Camp, number 2, held last week at Tar Hollow in Ross county, under the direction of Miss Genevieve Alley, Pickaway county home demonstration agent, and Larry A. Best, Pickaway county farm agent. Besides the group from Pickaway county there were groups there from Vinton and Ross counties.

Camp opened with an enrollment of 138 persons, with spirits as high as the humidity. The weeks activities were full of various classes in swimming and physical fitness. Classes were held to instruct the group in felt craft, metal bracelets, plaster plaques, leather craft and shell craft. Many interesting articles were made during the weeks' activities.

Miss Lois Defenbaugh, Saltcreek township, leader of the "Stitch and Chatter" 4-H club was a member of the camp staff. She directed the classes in making felt beanies. Miss Alley was program director and dietitian. Mr. Best supervised and instructed the art classes in making plaques.

In an election held Friday morning, Bob Wilson, representative from the Logan Elm Livestock 4-H club, and Joan Weiler, Kingston, were elected king and queen respectively. At the crowning ceremonies that evening, the lodge was beautifully decorated with green and white streamers.

The queen wore a white frilly blouse and a black taffeta skirt for the ceremony. King and queen were attended by Betty Jean Riddle, "Flying Needles and Fine and Dandy" 4-H club from Darby township, Nanty Freshour, and Ernie Hill, Ross county, and Bill Speakman, "Duvall Go Getters", 4-H club. After the crowning ceremony, a beautiful candlelight service was held.

Games were fast and furious with the use of horns and speeches for the election of staff members. Result of their election found Bob Wilson, Pickaway township, named as camp manager. Don Buck, "Perry Junior Farmers", program director, David Six, "Duvall Go Getters", song leader, and Bill Speakman, "Duvall Go Getters", in charge of clean-up and inspection.

Sue Neff, "S. S. Club", Monroe township, postal clerk, Ned and Ted Wolfe, "Logan Elm Livestock", life guards, Dick McAbee, "Westfall Livestock", Ann Vincent, "P and F Club", Perry township, nurse, Betty Haughn, "Up and Coming" Scioto township, plaster plaques and Lois Defenbaugh, "Stitch and Chatter", Saltcreek township, felt craft.

CARDS NARROW GAP WITH WIN OVER CUBS 3-1

Cincinnati Regains Fifth Place From Cubs With 8-5 Pirate Trouncing

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 — The spectacular charge of the world's champion St. Louis Cardinals down the National League stretch is a modern counterpart of that prime old favorite, "Sheridan's Ride."

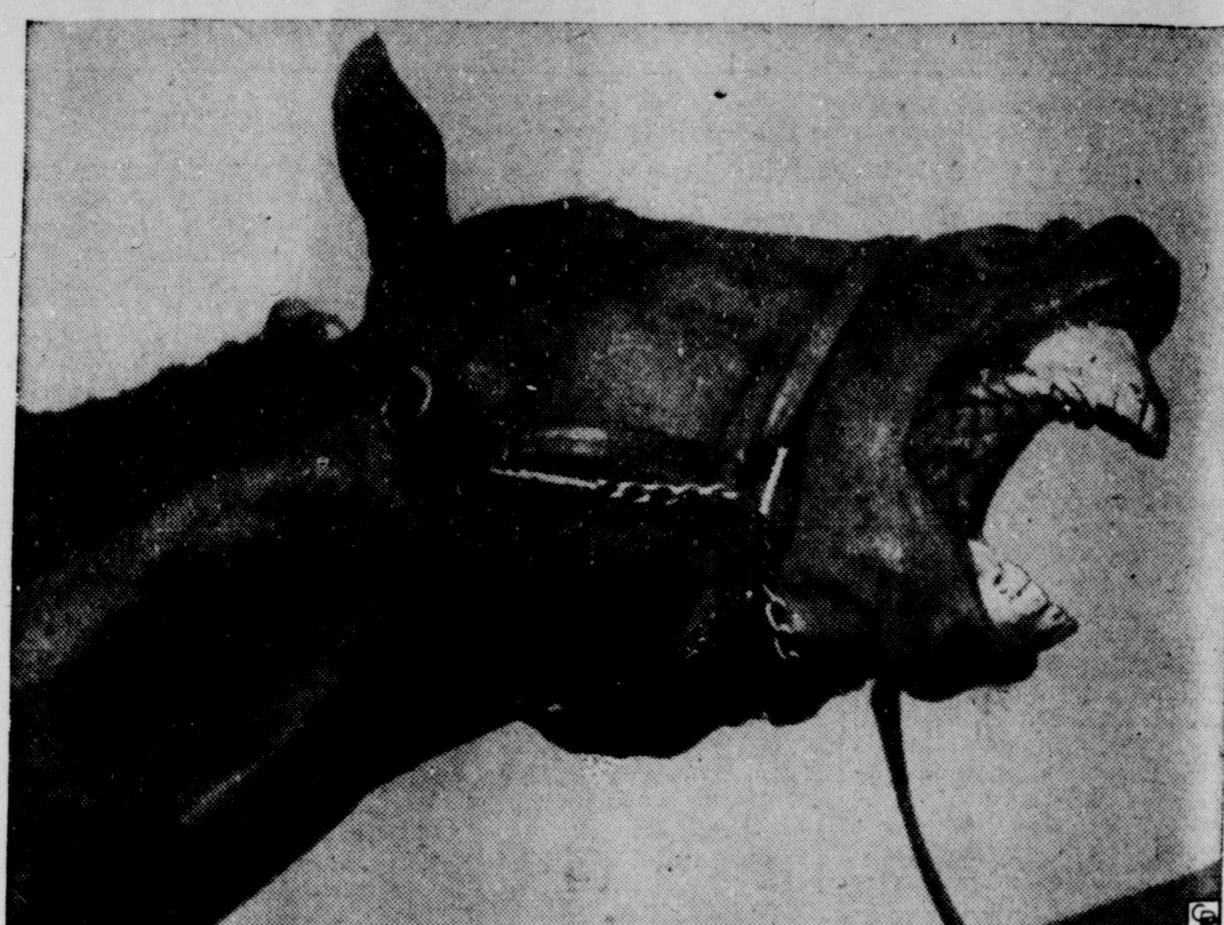

First Gen. Phil was thirty miles away, then twenty miles away and then only ten miles away as he galloped to the rescue of a hard-pressed union battalion.

Eleven days ago the Cards were ten games behind Brooklyn, but they started a spurt that has narrowed the gap almost daily. Last night the nerves of the idle Dodgers, waiting like a turkey for the axe to fall on Thanksgiving eve, must have neared the breaking point as the Cards beat the Cubs, 3 to 1, and surged to within three games of the Brooks.

Harry Brecheen went the route for the winners, who sewed up the game in the first inning by scoring two runs off Hank Borowy. It was the cat's 14th win of the season and he would have had a shutout except for a homer by handy Andy Pafko.

The victory may be a costly one for the Red Birds, however. Their catcher, Danny Garagiola, had the third finger of his right hand split in the ninth inning and had to retire.

ROYAL GUFFAW FROM CHAMPION MONEY-WINNER

IT'S a real horse laugh from the top race horse in the U. S. And good reason for the laugh, too, for Stymie, the champion money-winner of all time, was sold as a two-year-old for a mere $1,500. Since that time he has won $678,510, including the recent $100,000 Gold Cup race. (International)

Avoid Speculation With an FHA Appraisal

It's true that prices of older homes as well as newly built homes may be inflated in certain areas. But it is true, also, that you can get expert advice to equip yourself to judge prices asked.

You can buy an old or a new home in today's market under the FHA Plan and be sure you're getting the benefit of a thorough analysis of the entire transaction. Appraisals made by the Federal Housing Administration discount speculative prices due to housing shortages. FHA valuations are expert and unbiased.

Other advantages in an FHA-Insured Mortgage Loan include analysis of the site and neighborhood; inspections for compliance with FHA standards; low monthly payments; a long-term loan.

We recommend FHA financing under current market conditions. Come in and let us give you further details.

BLUES CARVE 20-15 VICTORY OVER MUDHENS

Old Fashioned Slugfest Comes After Toledo Pounds Out 22 Hits

Additional evidence of why the Kansas City Blues are making a runaway of the American Association race was available today in the Yankee farm's 20-to-15 defeat of Toledo last night.

The Blues' vaunted pitching was the Mud Hens pounded out 22 hits including a homerun by catcher Babe Martin. The Kaws, however, turned to old fashioned slugging to carve out a victory in one of the wildest games of season.

Kansas City drove Jim Bilybrey of the Hens off the hill in the first with a four-run attack, then scored 11 times in the fourth. Steve Souchock and Eddie Stewart had homers in that big frame, Stewart's coming with one on.

The up-and-coming Columbus Red Birds took over undisputed possession of fourth place and cut third place Milwaukee's lead to two and a half games by edging the Brewers in the ninth, 5 to 4, on Mike Natisin's homerun. It was the first baserman's 16th four bagger of the season.

Indianapolis dropped out of a deadlock with Columbus when Lloyd Dietz of St. Paul wove a five-hit, 4-to-1 spell over the Indians.

Lou Tost was the victim of a three-run assault in the sixth after he and Dietz engaged in a scoreless feud for five innings. Louisville and Minneapolis were not scheduled.

The win gave EUB the first round championship. Tuesday night EUB will meet 740 Club in initial second round play. South Bloomfield Merchants play Isalys Juniors Wednesday, and Friday night Clifton Auto Parts meet Boy's Club.

To salvage thousands of tons of lead from which it was made, "Pluto," the pipeline under the English channel which serviced the European battlefronts with gasoline during World War II, is being pulled up and coiled into huge circles.

NEW SHOWDOWN COUNCIL AIM IN • BALKAN PUZZLE

UN Considering Greece's Complaint Of Three Nation Threat

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 12—The United Nations security council, faced by the failure of its seven-member subcommittee to find a solution to the Greek problem, was seeking another showdown today in the Balkan border issue.

The 11-nation body was considering Greece's new complaint against Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria, and a supporting resolution by Australia invoking article 39 of the charter as a more drastic effort to secure action.

The United States and Britain are equally determined, regardless of Soviet opposition, to force another vote in the council, and if necessary, to remove it from the agenda in time to raise the entire issue in the September meeting of the general assembly.

The afternoon meeting of the security council was to be devoted to the Indonesian conflict, with fresh accusations of continued U. N. truce violations by Dutch troops expected.

Two proposals face the council. The first is a motion by Col. W. R. Hodges of Australia calling for establishment of a special U. N. team to supervise the armistice.

THE SECOND is a new application by Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippine republic to be heard as spokesman "for a vitally interested nation."

The council yesterday heard the conflicting standpoints of Egypt and Britain in the Egyptian demand that British troops be withdrawn and the Sudan joined to Egypt.

It is believed that the council finally will refer the case to the international court of justice, although opposing delegations enroute to New York from the Sudan have applied for a hearing.

NEW SUSPECT QUESTIONED IN RAPE SLAYING

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12—A new suspect in the Mildred McElvey rape-slaying was questioned today by Cleveland detectives.

The suspect, a middle-aged, powerful man, had an 11-inch gash on one of his arms, police said. He could not give a satisfactory explanation, they reported.

Miss McElvey was found stripped, battered and choked to death Sunday afternoon in Brookside park. Five men who were reported to have been seen with the 31-year-old woman Saturday night still were held by police.

Lt. David E. Kerr, head of the homicide bureau, said blood marks on the clothing of one of the five men were too meager for proper analysis. Blood on the other members of the five was explained as the result of a fight.

Cuyahoga County Deputy Coroner A. J. Kazlauckas said an autopsy of Miss McElvey's body indicated she was in the third stage of drunkenness when murdered. He said it was just short of unconsciousness.

Miss McElvey was waiting for a divorce from her husband, Walter Cool of Chambersburg, Pa. They had been separated 11 years. Her body was identified by Myron McKernan, hotel manager, who was engaged to marry her as soon as the divorce became final.

She was released in $25,000 bail provided by her brother and husband to whom, investigators said, her arrest came as a great surprise. (International)

2. What part of the flower is the corolla?
3. How would the palmetto be classified?

Words of Wisdom
Brevity is the best recommendation of speech, whether in a senator or an orator.—Cicero.

Today's Horoscope
With more than ordinary ability, you have self-confidence and ambition, and work and plan in a methodical manner. You speak quickly sometimes, but do not intentionally hurt others. You love travel and good times, and want your family and loved ones to share all your pleasures. You are affectionate and loving. Your birthday will be good. Events and action taken will have far-reaching effects. There may be a joining of forces or a partnership of some sort. In your next year, endeavor to avoid heart and nerve overstrain through excessive work and worry. Defer changes, if possible, whether domestic or business. Watch expenditures. Cultivate faith and optimism, as the clouds will pass. The child who is born today will be bold and highly strung and life will be difficult. Sorrow through the afflictions is shown and money will be hard to obtain.

Hints on Etiquette
If you feel sorry for yourself and continually talk about your troubles, you will soon lose your friends.

CINCINNATI MAN BEING SOUGHT IN FAMILY SLAYING

CINCINNATI, Aug. 12—A 42-year-old Cincinnati man was the target today of a three-state search in connection with the strangling of his wife and daughter yesterday.

Police looked for William H. Sharp, an unemployed aircraft worker, after Mrs. Virginia Sharp, 31, and the couple's four-year-old daughter, Barbara Jean, were found dead in their home.

The bodies were found by Mrs. William Merkel, mother of Mrs. Sharp, who lives in the same house. Deputy Hamilton County Coroner Frank R. Dutra said both died of strangulation although the woman had been hit on the head with a blunt instrument.

Notes found in the room and identified as having been written by Sharp indicated to her dentist that she had pulled all her own teeth by loosening them with her fingers and tongue, over a period of weeks, because she could not afford the money for extractions.

SENATOR ASKS PRIEST TO STEEL INQUIRY Face Local Accusation

Kaiser Demand Backed And GOP Hit For Failure To Control Prices

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—Sen. O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., today threw his weight behind Henry J. Kaiser's demand that Congress turn the spotlight on the steel industry.

The Wyoming Democrat blamed Republican politics—which he termed "their presidential canvass"—for the failure to control prices, particularly of steel, and to stimulate an increase in the nation's steel production capacity.

Kaiser's demand for an all-out probe of the steel industry coincided with reports that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has turned down, at least for the present, Kaiser's proposal that the agency pare down his $23 million dollar loan on his Fontana, Calif., steel plant.

DAMAGE TO CORN CLOUDS HOPE OF BIG MEAT CROP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—Possibility of a short corn crop this year darkened government hopes today for high level meat production in 1948 and pointed toward continued high prices for both corn and meat.

The agriculture department's monthly crop report estimated that corn production this year will fall 628 million bushels below last year's output, based on conditions as of Aug. 1.

Grain experts said that significantly the Aug. 1 estimates were made prior to the drought which is hitting the midwest corn belt area. They feared that this factor may trim the corn yield even below the latest prediction.

Government experts estimated this year's crop at two billion, 659 million bushels.

United States Lashes Russ for Veto Use In Defense of Aggression

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 12—The United States lashed Russia in the security council today for using the veto "in defense of aggression" and hinted that the general assembly will be asked to invoke article 51 for action in Greece by individual U. N. members.

The United States declaration, one of the toughest and bluntest policy statements recently heard by the 11-nation body, was the culmination of months of futile endeavor to overcome Soviet Russia's blocking of the Balkan border solution and her shielding of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

Johnson said he would support a similar Australian resolution. The council adjourned discussion until Thursday morning, when a decision may be taken.

RIEVE SAID that congress should reconvene in a special session because of the acuteness of the present economic crisis, but he added that "I don't have any hope of a special session."

The CIO official, who also heads the textile workers union, blamed industry and congress for current high prices. He said no ceilings are necessary on wages because profits are 70 per cent greater than the wartime peak and are sufficient to absorb all recent pay increases.

Rieve warned that if prices continue to rise, labor will have no alternative but to seek further wage boosts "although we don't like the prospect of having to carry a basket of money to the store to buy a loaf of bread."

Rieve said price controls especially should be reimposed on speculative commodities such as corn, wheat and similar items. He said the foreign aid program has put new pressures on the American economy and a system of controls is necessary to prevent "strangulation of our economy."

KAISER BUILT the Fontana plant on the 123 million dollar government load. He asks that the loan be cut to 38 millions, of which eighteen million has been paid, leaving a balance of twenty million dollars.

Predicting that steel "will be a lively subject" when congress reconvenes, O'Mahoney said:

The Wyoming senator added: "Henry Kaiser's application for an adjustment, in my opinion, makes it certain that the whole subject of steel capacity will be a lively issue before congress next session."

LOCAL BANKS TO IGNORE NEW OHIO CLOSING RULE

Although some banks in Ohio have announced adoption of a five-day week, under provisions of a new state law permitting Saturday closing, Circleville banks said Tuesday they will not adopt the new schedule and that the banks in Circleville will continue without changing their banking hours in any way.

Bankers in Circleville, it was explained, discussed the new law's provisions at a recent meeting and decided against the Saturday closing. Eight Cincinnati banks announced Tuesday that effective Sept. 20 their institutions will operate on the five-day week plan. The Cincinnati banks also announced that four holidays previously observed will no longer close the banks since they are not recognized generally by business and industry. These are Lincoln's birthday, Washington's birthday, Columbus day, and Armistice day.

Sheriff Radcliff said that the Rev. Fr. Theodo, accompanied by a brother-priest was in Circleville late last week and it was arranged to hold a hearing Monday, but the clergyman did not appear for the Monday hearing.

TORSO SLAYER ADMITS BRUTAL DETROIT CRIME

Bride Of 12-Days Failed To Respond To "Lady Making" Treatment

DETROIT, Aug. 12—A 50-year-old part-time Detroit butcher broke at the end of 12 hours of questioning today and admitted he was "guilty in the torso slaying of his 20-year-old bride."

Wayne county prosecutor James McNally quoted Harold Treaki as stating:

"I am guilty."

The middle-aged bridegroom of 12 days, however, balked at signing a written confession that he beat and dismembered his young wife.

THE VICTIM'S torso, limbs and head were found over the weekend stuffed in garbage receptacles along alleys in the Third Avenue district.

Police Inspector Marvin Lane and Chief of Detectives John O. Whitman said they had enough evidence for a formal murder warrant against Treaki without a signed confession from him.

Detectives said the chief pieces of evidence were blood stains found in the husband's apartment, a patched mattress and the testimony of the neighbors that they heard Mrs. Treaki scream for help Saturday afternoon.

INVESTIGATORS asserted pieces missing from Treaki's mattress matched the material in which the victim's head and legs were wrapped.

The break in the case, which involved questioning of five male suspects, came about 4 a.m. Treaki told police that he gave his wife $45 about 3 p.m. Saturday "for house money" but she went out and "got drunk".

Treaki, an auto worker, married the victim 12 days ago in Toledo, O., "to make a lady of her."

Police said Treaki was angered by her associations with other men. He was given a lie detector test prior to making his statement to police and "failed to pass."

POLICE FOUND a bloody butcher knife, an ice pick, a length of pipe and a pair of shears near Mrs. Treaki's home. A post-mortem revealed the victim died of a fractured skull, from blows of a heavy instrument.

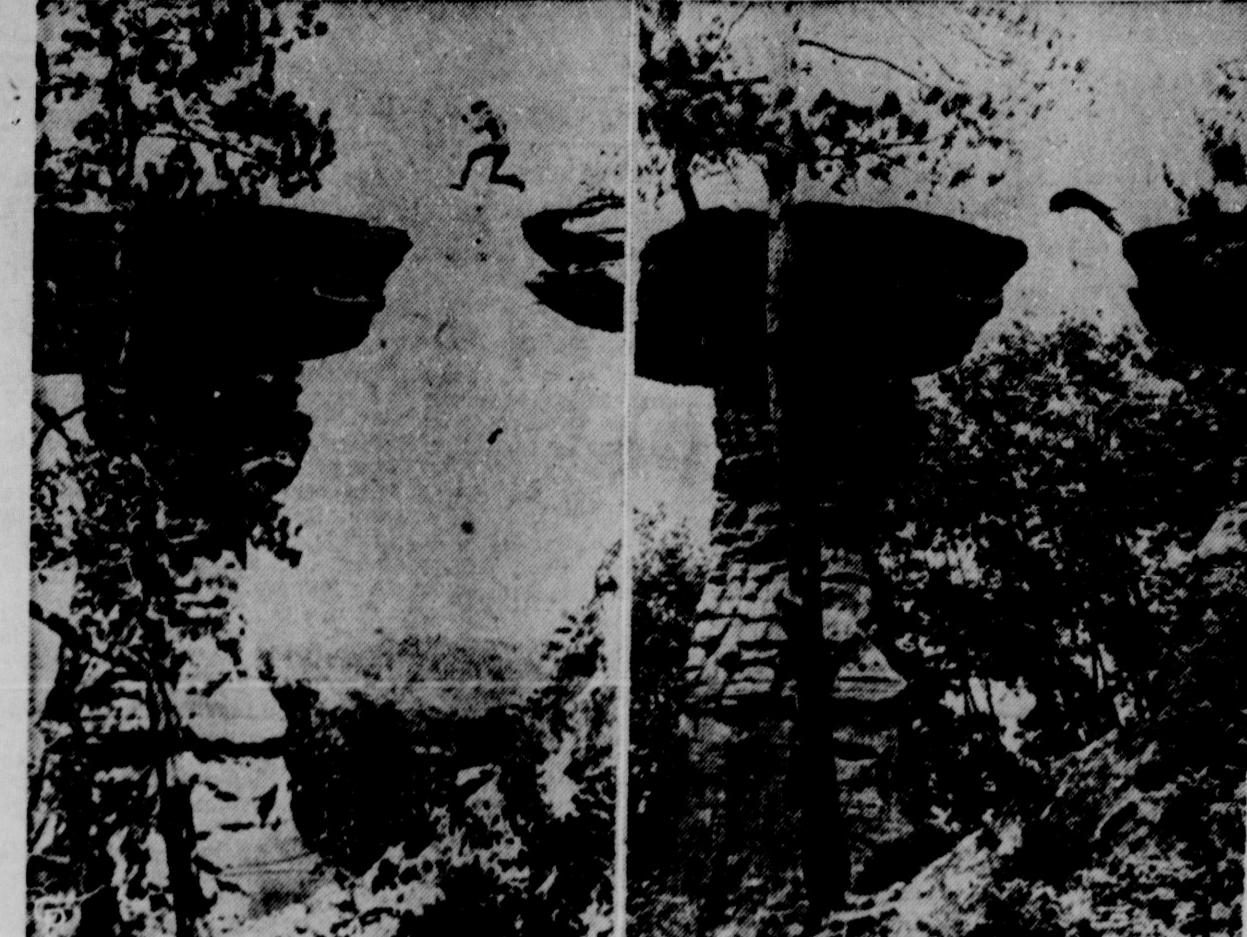

The body contained more than a dozen wounds, apparently inflicted by an ice pick. There were two deep gashes on the forehead.

DOG REPLACES MAN IN LEAP STOPPED 55 YEARS AGO

CONVICT CAMP SYSTEM ON WAY OUT IN GEORGIA

ATLANTA, GA., Aug. 12—Georgia's highway convict camp system was on the way out today as federal and state officials launched a new investigation into the fatal shooting of eight Negro convicts at the Brunswick road camp.

A grand jury recently failed to indict the camp guards who claimed they shot the prisoners as they were trying to escape.

The Georgia board of correction voted yesterday to close the two remaining camps immediately after hearing details of the riot from Glynn county commissioner Sam Levine. The Brunswick camp is in Glynn county.

Levine told the board the Negroes rioted when they were ordered into a ditch occupied by poisonous snakes.

Levine testified:

"A Negro is afraid of a snake and so am I."

He also branded the guards as "trigger-happy," and "illiterate." Levine said he was speaking as a private citizen.

The Brunswick American Legion post, the Good Citizen's club, the Young Men's Civic Club and the Democratic organization all were reported to have requested removal of the prison camp.

TRIBUTE TO UNCLE SAM

PRESIDENT MANUEL ROXAS of the Philippine Republic, in giving an interview to Lee Hills, says that America is the hope of the world.

The Philippine leader believes that the United States does not realize the weight of its influence on the suppressed peoples of the world. "Liberty and world peace are indivisible, and prosperity for all nations is closely related to freedom," he says. Democracy, according to the island president, is really working in the Philippines, and the result is being watched by the Asiatics. "America," he says, "is the only nation in the world which by its own record has convinced the people of Asia of its highmindedness, its disinterest and its great desire to enlarge the freedom of all peoples and give them equal opportunity to work out their own problems."

This is a heartening statement. It would be easy to believe, at the moment, that the rest of the world thinks of the United States only in terms of material gains. It is encouraging to learn that some intangible benefits are realized and appreciated.

INSECTS, NOT BIRDS

"TO FLY like a bird" is a poor comparison. So says William B. Stout, the automotive engineer, in a recent speech. He thinks that birds are not very good flyers; not one bird every landed upside down on a ceiling.

The real flyers are the insects. Their wings are far smaller in proportion to their size than those of birds, they can make higher speeds in proportion and can maneuver more readily.

For years inventors trying to build flying machines have had the idea of studying the flight of birds. If they had devoted the same attention to the movements of insects, Wilbur and Orville Wright might have had predecessors as the world's first successful aviators.

The Franco government in Spain has issued a new list of social reforms carried out under its auspices. Most observers report that the achievements look remarkably well—on paper. Actually little has been done. The greatest social reform that Franco could accomplish would be his resignation.

It begins to look as if maybe the greatest threat to modern civilization is the automobile.

Don't waste food! There are severe shortages in many foreign countries, that may last as much as three years.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—Congress failed to enact the Stratton bill admitting 400,000 displaced persons from Europe. This is stirring considerable bitterness among people who can make themselves bitter about such matters, believing the United States should be a refuge for anyone who needs a political haven. These people had spread their own impression that a critical emergency on the issue required immediate action.

There are perhaps 1,000,000 Europeans who do not wish to return to their homes for political or social reasons (they fear to go under the wing of Communism). About 21 percent are children; 13 percent are over 44 years old; 20 percent are Jews; 65 percent are Catholic; 15 percent Protestants; a majority was in agriculture before the war, but the group also includes variously skilled workers; 60 percent are in the United States zone and will cost us $130,000,000 to support this year. (These figures are all from legislative authorities who have investigated the subject and placed their apparently correct figures in the congressional record at one time or another near the end of congress.)

Congress realized the problem could not be solved simply by opening American immigration gates to let the mass flow in, although some evidence indicated many had relatives here who might support them. If this were true, however, Republican Representative Keefe of Wisconsin pointed out in a speech which was not noticed that admirals had testified shipping was unavailable to bring any small portion to these shores. The public simply has been ill-informed and misled about the whole problem by agitating people who have not stopped to ask themselves three questions, namely: what would be best for the 800,000 displaced? What would be best for us? How can what is best for both be done?

So the senate, in the closing moments of its session, authorized a senate judiciary sub-committee to conduct an investigation of the whole question of immigration. This inquiry now will seek the answer to the questions. It may also determine facts about the charges frequently made that Mr. Roosevelt admitted huge numbers of aliens on temporary permits during the war without any real authority in law; charges that aliens flow freely right now across borders; charges that large numbers of Europeans have come into this country as travelers since the war ended and simply remained. (The Lady Mountain, involved in the New York check story, was in this last class.)

The attitude of congress seems to me to be simply this: There is great sympathy for the DPS. Congress does not want to send them back to their homes in the new Russian slave empire. There is unwillingness to relax the immigration laws, especially while there is a lack of housing and a shortage of goods. There is a further fear that in event of a recession, the admission of DPS might complicate the employment problem. Government officials have estimated that from one to five million people (many Negroes) will be displaced from southern farms in the next few years by mechanization.

The DPS are mostly farm workers. Our own southern farm DPS are supposed to seek new employment in northern cities, (Continued on Page Eight) total of bond sales—hundreds of thousands, or it might even have been millions. It was probably the one constructive gesture any waiter ever made.

However, Louie went the way of all flesh. Next thing you knew, he was operating his own little joint. It was not exactly a roaring success and I lost track of Louie eventually. Undoubtedly he is still around town, telling Katharine Cornell to get a little more oomph in the third act.

I recall pert little Martha Stewart, the movie actress, telling me how it was impossible for her night club comic husband, Joe E. Lewis, to get through a meal when he was appearing at the Copacabana here—because all the waiters were horseplayers, and would forever be running over to Joe's table to give him hot tips.

Horseplaying, of course, is the waiter's occupational disease. They forever are lining up five-horse parlay that, if they click, will enable them to buy out the restaurant in which they work.

I GUESS THE TOWN'S MOST INTERESTING collection of waiters is over at lovely Lynn Gilmore's Steak House in the E. 48th st. When Lynn and her husband, Lou Levin, opened this lavish watering-hole a couple of years ago, they raided the New York-to-Washington dining-car run for waiters, but a number of the boys have even more interesting backgrounds than that.

There is Walter Richardson, for example; back in the '20s he was one of show business' best-known baritones. He headlined at the old Sunset Club in Chicago, co-starred with Ethel Waters in the play "Africana" in 1928 and popularized the song "Home Beyond the River" in the show "Old Man Satin" in New York. Walter is 55 today, but during the war he was spry enough to tour with the Canadian Red Cross to entertain servicemen.

Then, Lynn's other slaves—I should be a slave, at those wages! —include Sam Cross, who danced in the Jimmy Cooper revue during the '20s, working with Bill Robinson and Buck and Bubbles, and Bertram Cummings who, as Billy Jackson, had over 50 pro fights in the late '30s as a light-heavyweight.

Walter Powl in 1920 was a quarter and half-mile track and field star, and John Washington Byrd, a captain at Gilmore's, worked for 20 years on the Pullmans, serving such gents as Presidents Coolidge and Taft, Diamond Jim Brady, Flo Ziegfeld and Mae West. Hamilton Scott's extra-curricular job is preaching; he has a parish in the Bronx and insists stoutly "There is nothing wrong in serving Canadian Thanksgiving Day is Oct. 13. However, the date can't make things any tougher for the turkeys.

Of course, the most fabulous figure in Gilmore's is Lynn herself, who once modeled girdles for Powers and today is undoubtedly the most beautiful restaurateur—a great improvement on Leo Lindy or Toots Shor—in the world. However, that, as we say, is another story.

LOUIE REACHED HIS PEAK during the war years when he virtually won the war bond campaign single-handed. He hustled and threatened and virtually browbeat his favorite customers into buying war bonds, the result being that he ran up an unbelievable

The Treatment of Fibrositis

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE various parts of the body, such as muscle and bone, must be bound together and this is done by a special kind of tissue, known as fibrous tissue. It resembles the scar tissue which forms to heal wounds. Muscles and nerves are sheathed in thin sheets of such tissue and it forms the cords or tendons by which muscles are attached to the bones. This tissue may sometimes become inflamed, giving rise to the condition known as fibrositis, in which there are pain, swelling, stiffness, and wasting of the muscles.

This is a greater degree of pain, together with wasting of the muscles and stiffness of the shoulder joints. In these instances, also, it is necessary to find the areas of fibrositis. This can often be done by finding areas which are painful upon pressure. When such areas are located, and injected with a local anesthetic, prompt relief and often permanent cure are brought about. In 62 of 105 cases of painful shoulder, the area of fibrositis was located and injected. Cure was permanent in 88 of the patients.

Muscular pain may be felt on movement or during rest in the forearm and may be due to fibrositis affecting certain muscles just below the elbow. In such cases, the condition may follow an injury or a mild infection. Here again, treatment by injections of a local anesthetic bring relief.

Three Causes

According to Dr. Michael Kelly of Perth, Australia, there may be three causes for fibrositis—injury, infections such as may be present in the teeth, tonsils, or sinuses, or what is known as a rheumatic condition.

He is also of the opinion that one of the results of fibrositis may often be headache if the inflamed fibrous tissue is located in the upper part of the neck. In treating headaches due to fibrositis, a local anesthetic, which is a pain-deadening substance, was injected into the affected area.

Injections of a local anesthetic, such as chrysanthe-mum, are an uninspiring flower, I always think. And unless one takes a lot of time to choose them carefully, bridesmaids never match properly and there's nearly always one terribly plain one who ruins the whole effect—but one has to have her because she's usually the bridegroom's sister. But, of course," Lady Angkatell beamed. "Edward hasn't got any sisters."

"No, I don't want a fum. Just a very quiet wedding."

"I know what you mean, darling—and I think perhaps you are right. With an autumn wedding it's nearly always chrysanthe-mums—an uninspiring flower, but Edward said, his voice level and unemotional:

"Yes, I've asked Henrietta three times to marry me. Each time she has refused. Henrietta knows what she doesn't want."

There was a silence, and then Edward said:

"Well, Midge dear, what about it?"

Midge looked up at him. There was a catch in her voice. She said:

"It seems so extraordinary—to be offered heaven on a plate as it were, at the Berkeley!"

His face lighted up. He laid his hand over hers for a brief moment.

"Heaven on a plate," he said. "So you feel like that about Ainswick . . . Oh, Midge, I'm glad."

They sat there happily. Edward paid the bill and added an enormous tip.

The people in the restaurant were thinning out. Midge said with an effort:

"We'll have to go . . . I suppose I'd better go back to Madame Alfregé. After all, she's counting on me. I can't just walk out."

"No, I suppose you'll have to go back and resign, or hand in your notice, or whatever you call it. You're not to go on working there, though. I won't have it. But first I thought we'd better go to one of those shops in Bond Street where they sell rings."

"Rings?"

"It's usual, isn't it?"

Midge laughed.

In the dimmed lighting of the jeweler's shop, Midge and Edward bent over trays of sparkling engagement rings, while a discreet

Those whose birthday it is may have a year in which all success, progress and achievement depend upon their skill in impressing important persons of the worth and soundness of their plans, projects and ambitions. There may be stubborn resistance from family relations or from unfriendly elderly females or others with "old fashioned" ideas. But emotional or tempestuous acts would not prove the constructive course; better try a diplomatic and tactful method of approach, with some changes or revisions to meet objections. Shun all waste, and extravagance.

Tar Hollow Scene of 4-H Club Camping

Crown King, Queen During Activities, Classes Held

Sixty girls and thirty one boys from Pickaway county attended the Senior Camp, number 2, held last week at Tar Hollow in Ross county, under the direction of Miss Genevieve Alley, Pickaway county home demonstration agent, and Larry A. Best, Pickaway county farm agent. Besides the group from Pickaway county there were groups there from Vinton and Ross counties.

Camp opened with an enrollment of 138 persons, with spirits as high as the humidity. The weeks activities were full of various classes in swimming and physical fitness. Classes were held to instruct the group in felt craft, metal bracelets, plaster plaques, leather craft and shell craft. Many interesting articles were made during the weeks' activities.

Miss Lois Defenbaugh, Saltcreek township, leader of the "Stitch and Chatter" 4-H club was a member of the camp staff.

She directed the classes in making felt beanies. Miss Alley was program director and dietitian. Mr. Best supervised and instructed the art classes in making plaques.

In an election held Friday morning, Bob Wilson, representative from the Logan Elm Livestock 4-H club, and Joan Weller, Kingston, were elected king and queen respectively. At the crowning ceremonies that evening, the lodge was beautifully decorated with green and white streamers.

The queen wore a white frilly blouse and a black taffeta skirt for the ceremony. King and queen were attended by Betty Jean Riddell, "Flying Needles and Fine and Dandy" 4-H club from Darby township, N. N. Y. Freshour, and Ernie Hill, Ross county, and Bill Speakman, "Duvall Go Getters" 4-H club. After the crowning ceremony, a beautiful candlelight service was held.

Games were fast and furious with the use of horns and speeches for the election of staff members. Result of their election found Bob Wilson, Pickaway township, named as camp manager. Don Buck, "Perry Junior Farmers" program director, David Six, "Duvall Go Getters", song leader, and Bill Speakman, "Duvall Go Getters", in charge of clean-up and inspection.

Sue Neff, "S. S. Club", Monroe township, postal clerk, Ned and Ted Wolfe, "Logan Elm Livestock", life guards, Dick McBee, "Westfall Livestock", Ann Vincent, "P and F Club," Perry township, nurse, Betty Haughn, "Up and Coming" Scioto township, plaster plaques and Lois Defenbaugh, "Stitch and Chatter", Saltcreek township, felt craft.

Fred Dountz, "Up and Coming Club", Scioto township, metal craft, Barbara Campbell, "Westfall Livestock", Wayne township, leather crafts, and Jean Campbell, "Westfall Livestock", Wayne township, shell craft.

Garden Club Members Meet In Ashville

Members of the Solaqua Garden club held their August meeting in the home of Mrs. Homer Peters, Ashville, with Mrs. Leona Berger, assisting hostess. Meeting opened as the members answered roll call by naming their favorite flower.

Business hour was spent in planning future entertainment for all garden clubs of the county, on September 9, as Mrs. Hott, president, presided. Mrs. Donald H. Watt, Circleville, regional director, was a guest and assisted in planning the affair.

Afternoon's program consisted of a paper on "Summer Propagation of Summer Perennials" by Mrs. Rager, with various members taking part in a round table discussion of the selected topic. Mrs. Peters presented questions and answers on the topic of Mrs. Rager's paper. The flower arrangements were discussed and possible improvements noted.

ROBINSON'S HOSTS
Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Robinson, Shelby, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lash, Terra Haute, Indiana, were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Robinson, Circleville township. On Sunday a family gathering was held in the Robinson home. Additional guests for the day included, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wagner, Leslie Wagner and children, Leslie and Joan, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Following the reports the Trinity church Leaguers discussed plans for making their organization more active and influential in church affairs. The Rev. George L. Troutman emphasized the importance of the League's next meeting on September 15, when groundwork for an active Winter program will be laid, and he urged members to contact those Leaguers who were absent.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Troutman and her committee. After the lunch Mrs. Gladden Troutman led the Leaguers in riddle games.

NEW SHOWDOWN COUNCIL AIM IN • BALKAN PUZZLE

UN Considering Greece's Complaint Of Three Nation Threat

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 12—The United Nations security council, faced by the failure of its seven-member subcommittee to find a solution to the Greek problem, was seeking another showdown today on the Balkan border issue.

The 11-nation body was considering Greece's new complaint against Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria, and a supporting resolution by Australia invoking article 39 of the charter as a more drastic effort to secure action.

The United States and Britain are equally determined, regardless of Soviet opposition, to force another vote in the council, and if necessary, to remove it from the agenda in time to raise the entire issue in the September meeting of the general assembly.

The afternoon meeting of the security council was to be devoted to the Indonesian conflict, with fresh accusations of continued U. N. truce violations by Dutch troops expected.

Two proposals face the council. The first is a motion by Col. W. R. Hodgson of Australia calling for establishment of a special U. N. team to supervise the armistice.

THE SECOND is a new application by Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippine republic to be heard as spokesman "for a vitally interested nation."

The council yesterday heard the conflicting standpoints of Egypt and Britain in the Egyptian demand that British troops be withdrawn and the Sudan joined to Egypt.

It is believed that the council finally will refer the case to the international court of justice, although opposing delegations enroute to New York from the Sudan have applied for a hearing.

CINCINNATI MAN BEING SOUGHT IN FAMILY SLAYING

CINCINNATI, Aug. 12—A 42-year-old Cincinnati man was the target today of a three-state search in connection with the strangling of his wife and daughter yesterday.

Police looked for William H. Sharp, an unemployed aircraft worker, after Mrs. Virginia Sharp, 31, and the couple's four-year-old daughter, Barbara Jean, were found dead in their home.

The bodies were found by Mrs. William Merkel, mother of Mrs. Sharp, who lives in the same house. Deputy Hamilton County Coroner Frank R. Dutra said both died of strangulation although the woman had been hit on the head with a blunt instrument.

Notes found in the room and identified as having been written by Sharp indicated he intended suicide. The notes told of discouragement over debts and lack of work and outlined instructions for burial of the victim.

One note stated, "I did this of my own free will."
